Alignment of the Quadrennial Comprehensive Policy Review (QCPR) process and UN-Habitat strategic planning cycles

Objective: to improve policy and programme coherence across the United Nations system

QCPR: an instrument that enables the General Assembly to provide the United Nations system with policy guidance and strategic direction and ensure adequate oversight and accountability

Alignment of Strategic Planning Cycles: over the past five years, the governing bodies of the various UN entities have intentionally sequenced their respective strategic planning cycles to take place immediately following the adoption of the QCPRs to benefit from the General Assembly’s guidance and direction.

Current UN-Habitat Planning Cycle: United Nations Habitat Assembly at its second session in 2023, plans to adopt a new UN-Habitat strategic plan for the four-year period, 2024-2027. That plan will commence three years after the QCPR 2021-2024 and will conclude two years in to the next QCPR 2025-2028.

Recommendation to Align QCPR and Planning: United Nations Habitat Assembly can align future UN-Habitat strategic plans to QCPR by adopting an interim strategic plan 2024-2025 at its second session in 2023, and a strategic plan for the period 2026-2029 at its third session in 2025.
