What do you know about Katowice?

Katowice is a city in Upper Silesia in southern Poland, on the Kłodnica and Rawa rivers. In recent years Katowice has undergone a huge transformation. Until recently, the city was often seen as representative of Silesia: the place of heavy industry, coal and steel. The road that Katowice has travelled, becoming the modern capital of a metropolitan area with 2 million inhabitants, is an example of the transformation that has taken place throughout Poland. Katowice hosted the UN Climate Change Conference (COP24) in 2018 and will host the Internet Governance Forum (IGF) in December 2021.

The city boasts a state-of-the-art congress centre, well-developed hotel facilities and transport network. Katowice is seen as a leading example of urban regeneration.

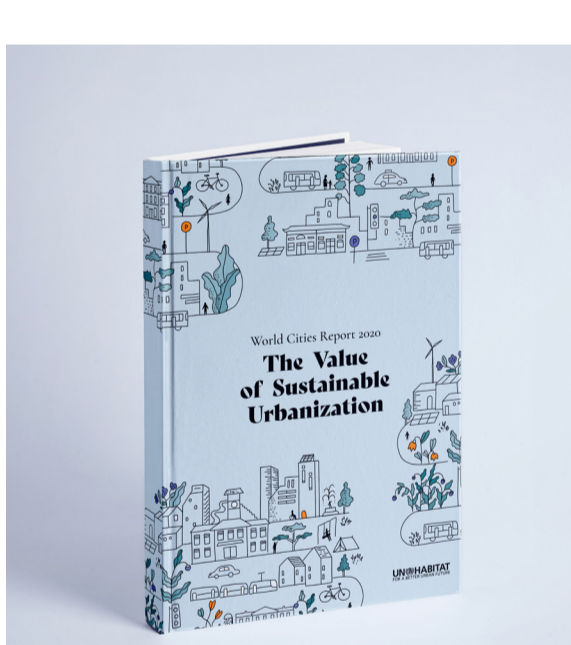

“Katowice is looking forward to hosting the international community. We have had many global gatherings. Hosting WUF11 underlines the importance of Katowice as the site of visible and significant socio-economic transformation and as a welcoming host of all events. We are looking forward to welcoming you all to Katowice at WUF11.”

Marcin Krupa, the Mayor of Katowice.

UN-Habitat’s flagship World Cities Report to be launched at WUF11

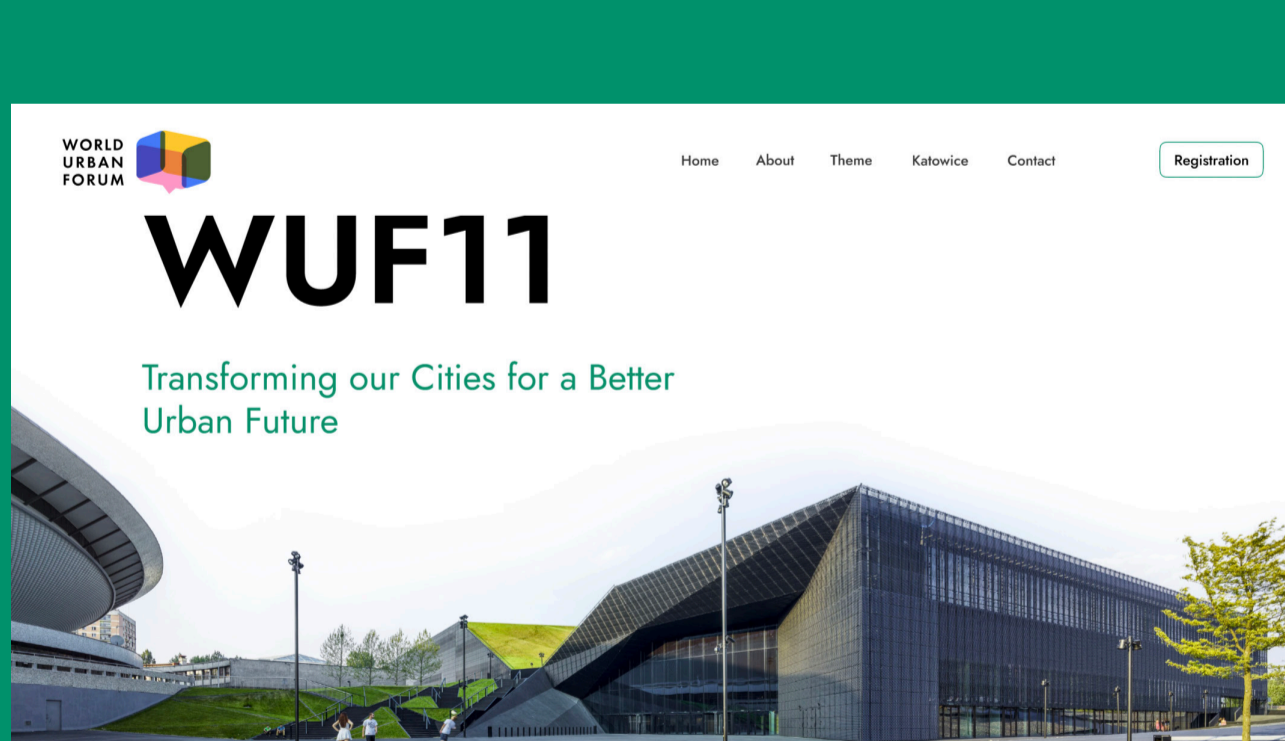

During WUF11, UN-Habitat will launch the World Cities Report 2022, a flagship publication and an integral aspect of UN-Habitat’s positioning as a centre of excellence and innovation for monitoring and reporting on sustainable urbanization. The theme of the World Cities Report - Envisaging the Future of Cities - mirrors the theme of WUF11.

A joint Expert Group Meeting on the theme of World Cities Report 2022 and WUF11 took place on 8-10 June 2021 with urban experts worldwide to review and advise on the main scope and key guiding questions. The Meeting discussed how future of cities will be jointly addressed at WUF11 and in the World Cities Report 2022 with focus on equitable urban futures, greener urban futures, urban health, innovation and technology, planning the future of cities and building urban resilience. Last year UN-Habitat launched the World Cities Report 2020 on the Value of Sustainable Urbanization which is available here.
