International Course on:

Building Sustainable Communities:
Leadership, Gender, and the Environment

20 November -7 December 2017

Haifa, Israel

About the Course

Background

One of the main outcomes of the Rio+20 Conference was the agreement by Member States to launch a process to develop a set of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), which will build upon the Millennium Development Goals and converge with the post 2015 development agenda. As a member of the 'Global Sustainable Development Criteria' (GSTC) initiative, Israel is committed to the promotion of sustainable communities worldwide. MASHAV through its affiliate, the MCTC, together with the Gender Units of UN Environment and UNHABITAT facilitates the sharing of Israel, the United Nations and participants' countries best practices and experiences regarding sustainable development and women's empowerment, especially concerning environmental development, community development, and leadership development.

Aims

Through an interactive learning approach, including sharing and analysis of case studies, study visits and discussions, this Course aims:

- To better the understanding of holistic approaches for sustainable living
- To strengthen leadership capacity of women and youth as leaders of sustainable development
- To analyze gender equality issues and their relation to environmental management
- To provide tools for environmental sustainability in rural and urban areas through community development
- To better the understanding of ecological systems including environmental sustainability in urban and rural areas and the human component
- To provide skills and hands-on practices in community mobilization and project planning

Main Subjects

- Interconnectedness of gender equality, community building, and the environment
- Gender mainstreaming in development
- The linkage between gender and the environment
- Leadership and citizens participation
- Urban governance and smart cities
- Sustainability and social aspects in urban planning
- Policies and models of green building, use of local resources and renewable energies

About MASHAV

MASHAV – Israel’s Agency for International Development Cooperation is dedicated to providing developing countries with the best of Israel’s experience in development and planning. As a member of the family of nations, The State of Israel is committed to fulfilling its responsibility to contribute to the fight against poverty and to the global efforts to achieve sustainable development. MASHAV, representing Israel and its people, focuses its efforts on capacity building, sharing relevant expertise accumulated during Israel's own development experience to empower governments, communities and individuals to improve their own lives. MASHAV’s approach is to ensure social, economic and environmental sustainable development, and is taking active part in the international community’s process of shaping the Post-2015 Agenda, to define the new set of the global Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). MASHAV’s activities focus primarily on areas in which Israel has a competitive advantage, including agriculture and rural development; water resources management; entrepreneurship and innovation; community development; medicine and public health, empowerment of women and education. Professional programs are based on a “train the trainers” approach to institutional and human capacity building, and are conducted both in Israel and abroad. Project development is supported by the seconding of short and long-term experts, as well as on-site interventions. Since its establishment, MASHAV has promoted the centrality of human resource enrichment and institutional capacity building in the development process – an approach which has attained global consensus.www.mashav.mfa.gov.il www.facebook.com/MASHAVisrael

About MCTC

The Golda Meir MASHAV “Carmel” International Training Center was founded by Golda Meir in Haifa in 1961. MCTC was the first of its kind in the domain of women’s empowerment and since its inception has had a profound influence on both individuals and the policy arena. MCTC endeavors to provide professional women and men from developing countries and transitional societies with the necessary tools for women’s empowerment. It aims to enable women to contribute to the socioeconomic development processes of their communities and consequently advance their status. To this end, MCTC conducts training activities, both in Israel and overseas, to advance women’s participation in public life. To date, over the 52 years of MCTC’s existence, almost 19,000 women and men from over 150 countries have benefitted from hundreds of training activities. Today, many of them hold key positions at the local or national level, or within the United Nations. www.mctc.org.il

About UN Environment

The United Nations Environment, established in 1972, is the voice for the environment within the United Nations system. UN Environment acts as a catalyst, advocate, educator and facilitator to promote the wise use and sustainable development of the global environment. UN Environment’s mission is "To provide leadership and encourage partnership in caring for the environment by inspiring, informing, and enabling nations and peoples to improve their quality of life without compromising that of future generations." www.unep.org

About UNHABITAT

UN-Habitat is the United Nations program working towards a better urban future. Its mission is to promote socially and environmentally sustainable human settlements development and the achievement of adequate shelter for all.

In October 2016, at the UN Conference on Housing and Sustainable Urban Development – Habitat III – member states signed the New Urban Agenda. This is an action-oriented document which sets global standards of achievement in sustainable urban development, rethinking the way we build, manage, and live in cities. Through drawing together cooperation with committed partners, relevant stakeholders, and urban actors, including at all levels of government as well as the private sector, UN-Habitat is applying its technical expertise, normative work and capacity development to implement the New Urban Agenda and Sustainable Development Goal 11 – to make cities inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable. www.unhabitat.org
